January 16, 2013

Dear Parents/Guardians,

Our school puppet, Tim, sometimes has trouble at school. When problems come up, he does not always know how to handle them. So, Tim decided that he would ask the students for advice.

Each month, Tim will tell the students his problem in video and print form. Then, any student is welcome to write Tim a letter, explaining how he could solve his problem. When they are finished, the students turn their letters in to Mrs. Rex. Anyone who offers a positive suggestion for Tim will be entered in a drawing to win a prize. This will help our students identify and practice pro-social skills in a fun, engaging way.

This month’s problem is attached. You are welcome to help your child by discussing possible solutions and assisting, as needed, with their handwriting. Have fun!

Sincerely,

Hiawatha Staff and Tim